Buried Alive.
Terrible Torture Under a Big Snow Slide—Rescue of Two Miners from a Living Tomb—Six Days Walled in with Impenetrable Snow.

[Correspondent Salt Lake Tribune.]

AITA, Jan. 3, 1877.—New Year's morn broke bright and clear, and as the happy greeting rang out on the clear, frosty air, little we dreamed of the sad tragedy enacted so near that was so soon to cast a gloom over the spirits of all. Mr. Lew Boutwell, of American Fork Canyon, came over here early New Year's morning, passing near the Wellington mine, on the east side of Bald Mountain, but without seeing anything, as there was a slight fog at the time. On his return in the afternoon he discovered that a snow slide had covered the dwelling, and hastened back to report.

A large party of our citizens repaired to the scene, where every vestige of the house was buried beneath an immense slide, with the exception of the roof, which had been carried away some three hundred feet. After working until late into the night, and discovering nothing of the house or its occupants, consisting of J. W. Brown, J. B. White, John Varcoe, J. W. Park, wife and child, and it being evident that the slide had occurred several days previous, the party returned to their homes to mourn their friends as lost.

Early next morning a force was sent over from the Flagstaff mine to help recover the bodies, and after probing the snow in several places with long iron rods, they struck a portion of the house, when imagine their surprise at hearing a knocking in reply. Hastily sinking a shaft to the depth of twenty feet, they struck what had been the upper floor of the house, under which they found Messrs. Brown and Varcoe. The former was delirious, but the latter in good spirits, and declared that to be the happiest moment of his life. By this direction the bodies of Mr. White, Mrs. Park and the child were recovered, having probably met with instant death, as they were badly crushed by portions of the building and the weight of the snow. The body of Mr. Park has not yet been recovered.

Mr. Varcoe states that the slide struck them December 28th, about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. All were in the house at the time except Mr. Park, who was shoveling snow from the steps. Himself and Brown found themselves under the upper floor of the house, with just sufficient room to turn over, but were unable to sit up or touch their hands to their legs, which became greatly swollen from the cold, they being in their stocking feet at the time. The tapes which tied their drawers at the ankle, cut into their swollen limbs, producing constant torture, of which they were unable to relieve themselves. Their bed was the snow, the melting of which saturated their clothing, while the floor above kept cracking as the snow settled on it, and they expected every moment it would fall and crush them.

On New Year's night they plainly heard the party searching for them, and could even distinguish the voices of their friends. After shouting until exhausted, they heard them leave them, as they supposed, to die in their dungeon. Then, and not till then, says John Varcoe, we gave up all hope. Mr. Brown became delirious soon after, in which condition he was taken out. Both parties are improving, although Mr. Brown is in a critical condition yet.

They talk of cutting Queen Victoria's salary down from $3000 a day to only $4500, and this in the presence of a severely hard winter.

A Bold Defaulter.

Stealing the Same Stocks Twice—Carrying $800,000 on Margins.

[From the Canadian Free Press.]

Barber has been robbing the Montreal bank for years. He took to stock speculations first with his own money and lost. Then he determined to try again, this time with money realized on securities belonging to the bank, which, of course, he intended to replace as soon as he had made his pile. As assistant accountant, he had access, not only to the securities belonging to the bank, but to the securities placed in the bank for safe keeping by customers. These securities were chiefly city, county and township in a word, municipal debentures, and he stole not only the bank's but the customers'. He was carrying on margin $800,000 of stocks last week—Bank of Montreal stock, Montreal Telegraph stock, Dominion Telegraph stock, New York Graphic stock (that paper is owned by Canadians), and Canadian stock of every kind. And not content with speculating in the Queen's Dominion, he operated largely in New York.

As an instance of the cool manner in which he played his game, I am told that some weeks ago he offered $30,000 worth of securities to a Toronto broker and asked for an advance of $30,000 thereon. The broker, naturally enough, asked him how he came by the securities.

"Oh," said Barber, "I belong to a syndicate in Montreal; in fact, I'm their Toronto agent."

Without more ado the broker advanced him the sum required. A few days afterward the same broker was short of cash, and he took the securities he had obtained from Barber to the Bank of Montreal, and deposited them as collateral and obtained $80,000 on them. And the next day Barber stole them again, deposited them with another broker, and obtained another advance on them.

It was a case of this double-back action, thieving that finally floored him last Saturday. He had abstracted some securities belonging to the township of London, County of Middlesex, and obtained an advance upon them from a Montreal broker. The broker in turn put them into the Bank of Montreal office, in Montreal, and they were forwarded to the office here for identification. Then Barber abstracted them again, and swapped them here. The broker who got hold of them had occasion to send them to broker No. 1 in Montreal, and failing to be able to account for their sudden reappearance, broker No. 1 consulted the bank people in Montreal. They in turn asked Toronto, and Barber was fairly trapped.

Legislative Correspondence.

Carson Fare—Notice of Bills and Resolutions by Our Own Representative—Lobbyists—A Boot and Shoe Speculator—State Prison.

CARSON CITY, January 9, 1877.

I dropped over in Carson this morning, partook of a Carson restaurant breakfast that Pat Keliher can discount, and proceeded for Washoe county's representatives; and just here let me say they are the kind of men your correspondent has a hankering for. Boardman was found at the new Arlington Hotel, and with Haines of Storey, escorted your humble, etc., to the halls of wisdom. As we were early I was trotted around and introduced to the Secretary of State, Senators and Assemblymen, innumerable. Taking a chair by Senator Boardman we took in the business of the Senate. Lieutenant-Governor Adams made a dent in the desk with the gavel and the Senators took seats. Prayer was offered, short and to the point, and the burdens of the former day read. I won't attempt in this short and hastily written letter attempt to tell all that the Senate and Assembly did in the hour and half that the august bodies held forth, but will state only such matters as are of general and Washoe county importance.

Senator Ross moved that the Senate Committee on State Affairs visit the State Prison at Reno, with the Assembly Committee, next Saturday. Motion prevailed.

Comins, the good looking Senator of late notoriety, introduced a bill to change the fiscal year to the latter part of January, that the reports of County Auditors might be in and use made of them in the State officers' reports.

Cassidy, of Eureka, who is good looking, a good talker, mischievous and versed in the rules, went for the Constitution and will talk in the future about its amendment in reference to the convening of the Legislature the last Monday in January. The report of the Board of Capital Commissioners was read by the Clerk who has a high forehead and a good one for figures. The reports say that the Board has expended $25,000 on the building and grounds in the last two years and ask for $7,000 more. Senator Ross gave notice that he would introduce an act to amend an act in relations to public roads and highways.

Senator Boardman gave notice that he would at an early day introduce a bill to authorize the County Commissioners of Washoe county to issue bonds to build a bridge across the Truckee river.

By Senator Edwards, request Senate Bill No. 11, an Act to amend certain sections of an Act concerning the government of the State Prison. This bill makes a strike at Hyman, State Warden. The bill provides for the election of State Warden by both Houses, and there may be a little fun over this bill before it comes to a vote.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution was passed, sending a committee of five, three of the House and two of the Senate, to visit the Woodbridge Asylum and make a full report by the first of February.

In Assembly Concurrent Resolution, by J. K. Everett, relative to Pyramid Indian reservation, memorializing Congress to reduce the above reservation to three townships. Col. Dow is here lobbying the bill through.

By Grey, Concurrent Resolution, relative to fares and freights on the G. P. R. R.

More also gave notice relative to enacting a law restraining the Board of Pardons.

The Board of Pardons completed their labors to-day, and it is confidently affirmed that if they were not a generous Board the State Prison would have been found too small a long time ago.

There are a few smooth ones present scheming for the success of their favorite measures, but the principal pursuit seems to be lobbying for a square meal. Your correspondent has lost much flesh but is gaining in experience, and will at an early day introduce a bill enabling John Sunderland to sole his boots with Carson steaks, under the impression that they will wear better and be more springy than the ordinary leather.

Search was asked for an incorporation act and your representatives went to hear from Reno on the same subject. —Your Correspondent, J. Barry.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Turner, the Jacksonville telegraph operator, says that under advice from the Western Union Telegraph Company, he declines to answer questions.

It is reported that Wheeler left home yesterday for Ohio, to visit Hayes, at the latter's request.

It is reported that the Compromise Electoral Committee has reached an agreement that no electoral vote shall be rejected without the mutual consent of both Houses.

The treaty between the United States and Nicaragua has been completed, and will be sent to the Senate for ratification early this week.

Money was collected in Oregon to pay Cronin's expenses, and the fees of lawyers who argued against the issuance of a certificate to Watts.

They are now making ready to contest Vanderbilt's will.

The Sub-Committee on the subject of the Texas Pacific Railroad report, recommending a bill which provides that the Texas Pacific Company shall construct a line to a point 100 miles west of El Paso, and that the Southern Pacific Company of California shall be allowed to build the remainder of the transcontinental line to San Diego; equal privileges and assistance to be granted by Government to both companies.

The Oregon case is thus far made out that Pelton, Tilden's Private Secretary, had $3,000 of somebody's money sent to Oregon on the day of the meeting of the Electors, and that he has since tried to keep the fact from coming out. It is further shown that Cronin, having been the Democratic elector receiving the highest number of votes, was the only person who could carry out the Democratic programme.

The Governors of Missouri and Kansas were peacefully inaugurated yesterday.

The principals of the May-Bennett duel have returned to New York. Both are said to have been wounded.

The Democrats of Kansas, in Convention, express the belief that Tilden and Hendricks are elected by both the popular and electoral vote of the country; condemn the use of the military in attempts to defraud the people of the three contested Southern States, and demands that Representatives in Congress use every lawful means to secure them the rights of local self-government.

Grant has talked to a Tribune reporter, and says that an inauguration elsewhere than at Washington will be without effect, and that the President's authority, exercised in accordance with law, is as supreme in the District of Columbia as if it were a garrisoned fortress, and any demonstrations or warlike concentration of men threatening the peace of the city, or endangering the security of public property or treasure of the Government, could be summarily dealt with, should public safety demand it, by declaration of martial law.

The Louisiana affidavits are described as having the appearance of being manufactured by the quantity. It is also doubtful whether the Returning Board ever heard of one-tenth of the evidence which the Democracy will present to the country.

The White Leaguers in Louisiana have rallied to the support of Nicholls, and taken possession of police stations and Court-rooms in New Orleans. No bloodshed has as yet ensued.

FOREIGN.

Midhat Pasha visited Lord Salisbury on Sunday to discuss the possibility of a mutual concession, but no actual decision was reached.

Count Andrassy in a conversation continues to express his belief in a peaceful result.

The Hungarian General, Klapha, has inspected the arsenals and stores of Turkey, and certifies that the Turkish Government has a million breech-loaders, and accoutrements sufficient for four hundred thousand men. The Turkish army in Bulgaria is rapidly increasing.

The Porte has declared the abolition of the Ministry of Finance, and intends to entrust this branch of the administration to two European Directors, an Englishman and a Frenchman.

Lord Salisbury has demanded that Chefket Pasha, the principal actor in the Bulgarian atrocities be tried again.

A St. Petersburg date of the 9th says: The fact that no decision was reached in yesterday's sitting of the Conference is regarded as affording further proof that the Porte seeks to use the new Constitution as a means of avoiding a compliance with the demands of the Powers. Russia has reached the limit of concession, and other Powers have declared their determination to uphold the programme of the Conference.

State News.

The ball of the O. U. and C. V. on Monday night in Virginia City is said to have been a magnificent success.

The Board of Pardons have refused to commute the sentence of Peter Larkin, and he will accordingly be hung on the 19th inst.

The Eureka and Elko papers are exercised over the boundary bill which promises soon to come before the Senate.

During the fiscal year, ending January 4, 1877, the total amount of revenue derived by Lander county from gaming licenses, reached fifteen hundred and four dollars. This is what may be termed the legal percentage of the game.

The preliminary examination of Harry Huff, charged with the murder of McRavey, a short time since, took place in Winnemucca on Saturday and Sunday. No evidence differing from that already published was elicited.

A correspondent of the Silver State, writing from Big Meadows says that land excitement, still runs high and a large number of people have located homes for themselves and erected dwellings. Where nothing but a broad expanse of sage brush could be seen six months ago, may now be observed a tract of land plentifully dotted with neat appearing cabins, while in almost every direction men engaged in destroying the hitherto worthless product of the soil meet the view, all indicative of the energy that is being manifested in preparing the broad acres for cultivation.

A town site has been surveyed about a mile and a half west of the present location of Lovelock's Station, Big Meadows, also another one at the station, thereby creating opposition which will, perhaps, expedite the sale of town lots in that section.

HUMBOLDTERS IN RENO.—Under this head the Carson Tribune localizes as follows:

Those three smart Alecs, to wit—Thomas Julien, Doc Hutchins and Charley Varian are all now located in the flourishing town of Reno. These gentlemen are all good citizens, smart in politics, have pretty well run their old cognity, and will certainly be at the top of the tree in Washoe county. Humboldters are famous as office seekers, and like the man and the woodchuck, will have it.

Yes, these gentlemen came down to help us move the State Prison this winter.

STILL ON TOP.—Hurrah for the Centennial. It is a danger to the public to know that all danger has been removed. That man who shaves at the Centennial need fear for his throat. No danger of having your hair poorly cut or losing a piece of your cheek at this shop, on account of a poor light; and why? Yes, why? Well, Nick, in order to keep ahead and have all modern improvements, has introduced gas into his shop and you would hardly know the place. Step around gentls, opposite Norton's butcher shop, and get shaved, and come early, for there are always two crowds around. One comes to get shaved and the other to admire the shop's gas-light. 12-147

Courtois, on the face, together with a cut of a steam engine, and on the opposite side the inscription "Diamond Chapter, No. 4," also on the inside a lady's picture, was lost either in Reno or Sacramento, or possibly in the cars between the two places, on January 2d. I will pay $10 to the finder on return of the Keystone to the office of the Reno Lumber Company, Reno, Nevada. CHAS. COURTOIS.

Jones vs. Smith—Smith Wounded in the Thigh—Family Matters the Cause.

It never rains but it pours, and just now it seems that a combative flood has fallen upon Reno, which, although it may wash away many old grudges, threatens to take the peace of the town with it. The pistol is appealed to rather readily, and when one man attempts to take the law in his hands he never lacks followers.

The parties to the affray last night were Wm. H. Jones and J. C. Smith, two brakemen on the V. & T. road. Jones had been married but a few months, and having some trouble with his wife she went back to her mother's house. Mrs. McLeish, the mother, was keeping boarders, and among the number was Smith. Jones visited the house from time to time, and formed an opinion that Smith was improperly intimate with his wife. Last evening Smith went up to the house and spent the evening playing cards with the mother and daughter. After finishing the game Mrs. McLeish stepped out into the kitchen, and met Jones, her daughter's husband, coming in the back way. Jones spoke to her, and passing on to the front room found his wife and Smith in the room. At sight of Smith, Jones thought all of his former suspicions confirmed, and demanded some explanation or confession, or accused Smith according to his suspicions. A controversy of course ensued and in the melee Smith received a ball from Jones' pistol in his thigh. The bullet entered on the outer edge of the thigh and emerged without penetrating any distance, making a wound about seven inches in length, the wound was confused to the flesh with the exception of a small piece chipped from the thigh bone, Smith will be about in two or three weeks.

The wildest kind of stories were afloat last night as to the motive and circumstances of the affair. Smith thinks the shooting was entirely unjustifiable, while Jones affirms that he had no desire to hurt Smith, but was driven to it by the circumstances of the case. Between the two we have no desire to judge, but we must regard the hasty act which places one man in bed with a painful wound and another in jail to await his trial, as uncalled for and unfortunate in the extreme. Both men are as far as we know honest and industrious and have been employed for some time on the road. The wound is not at all dangerous or painful.

WOOD SAWING.—Courtois & Boyd are rigging up a large circular saw, which is to be run by horse power, and cut our wood quicker and cheaper than formerly. We understand that when in proper order this saw will cut wood into stovelengths for 50 cts. per cord, and even at a higher price the enterprise is commendable and in the best interest of consumers.

That Robbery.

Chas. Felch, who was robbed a short time ago on the Geiger Grade, in company with two other men, gives the following particulars in regard to the funny side of the story: He said that he had been robbed before, and could tell a new hand at sight. The first he saw of the footpads they were directly in front of his party, one of them holding two pistols directed at Antone, one of Felch's party. Felch's wagon was stopped, and he began to study how he might get the better of the highwaymen. In order to do this he started to get out of the wagon on one side and pushed one of his party toward the other side of the wagon, so as to make the robbers separate. The old man did not relish getting down on one side all alone, and climbed clear back over the wagon. The road agents then explained their business, and Felch, while sitting on the side of the road, tried to pull a rock loose in order to use it on the gentleman who held the guns, but that individual detecting him, and after asking "what in — he was trying to do," said he had better step forward and "take a front seat," which he did. The man who acted as "collector" was, meanwhile, "going through" the rest of the crowd. When he approached the old Italian who had climbed back over the wagon in order to have company, the agent asked him what he was doing just then at the wagon. He replied promptly that he had put his watch away, whereupon the man who had the party covered said that he just needed a watch, and if this was a good one to drag it out. At this the old man flew into a great rage and said he would die first, &c., from which Felch again began to hope that he might have assistance in trying to take the robbers. But the old man's valor proved to be only skin deep as he got very quiet when the pistol was laid under his nose. Felch was now ordered up to make his returns, and tried to raise his hands so as to get a chance at the Collector's throat, but this attempt was also foiled, and he was sternly commanded to go a little slow. They took from him $30.50 and returned him 75 cents. From Antone they got $35, returning him $2.50. From the old man 25 cents was the last cent they could get. The chief road agent then made a short speech to them, saying "he didn't want any dam foolishness; to walk right off, and take a drink at the foot of the grade with the money returned to them and say no more about it, as it would all come right in the spring."

BOARD OF TRADE.—The Board of Trade met last evening. J. S. Shoemaker was called to the chair, and the matter of the incorporation of Reno considered. The resolution "that the matter of the incorporation of the town of Reno be indefinitely postponed, and that it be declared the sense of this Board that the town should not be incorporated," was carried by a very small vote. Mr. Hatch was allowed to change his vote to the affirmative, and then gave notice that he would move a reconsideration of the question at the next meeting of the Board.

The following resolution was introduced by Mr. Beck:

RESOLVED, That a committee of three be appointed by the chair to draft a bill to be introduced in the Legislature for the purpose of securing means to build a bridge across the Truckee river at Reno, and report to this Board the draft of such bill, on Tuesday evening next.

Messrs. Beck, Knox and Varian were appointed as such committee.

The Board adjourned till Saturday evening next, when the proposition to establish in Washoe county a separate Judicial District will be considered. At the meeting last night there were present Messrs. Fish, Hatch, Beck, Cookes, Gilson, Varian, Shoemaker, Richardson, and a few others.

FIREMAN'S BALL.—Reno Engine Co. No. 1, has determined to give a grand fireman's ball on February 22d. This day, we believe, will be the anniversary of the Company's formation, and we think they have chosen a fitting celebration for the day. The best of music will be secured, and you that esteem the fire boys so highly when your house is in danger, should turn out and help them make their first anniversary a grand success. Messrs. D. McFarland, C. A. Richardson, Wm. Duck, N. C. Hammersmith and Albert Lucas have been appointed a Committee of Arrangements.

CROOKED.—A lady while riding over the crooked railroad to Virginia nudged her husband and said: "George, who is that curly headed gentleman on the engine? He has passed us three or four times, and stares at though he recognized me."

Flynn's Pardon.

Many of our readers have inquired why D. H. Flynn was liberated by the Board of Pardons Commission, so soon after his sentence.

The following reasons are given, as gleaned by our correspondent from the Board and deemed by that body sufficient.

"Whereas it has been shown to this Board that the said D. H. Flynn was confined in the jail for a small offense and had nothing to do with breaking the jail but simply walked out when he found the way open and notified the son of the jailor that he would return as soon as he visited Virginia on business, and that the said Flynn had been a good and industrious citizen. And as the jury which tried the case unanimously recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the Court, whereupon he was sentenced to the shortest term of imprisonment which the law allows, the District Judge expressing his regret at the time that he was obliged to impose that penalty, and whereas his pardon is now prayed for by every member of the jury which tried the case and by a large number of the more prominent citizens of Washoe county."

Jottings.

He hiccupped three times, and as he looked from the bridge down to where the drifting timbers had come together in large numbers said: "I'd give three dollars to know who's been puttin' a floor over that river."

Little Nell was in Carson yesterday, and will show here to-morrow evening.

Overman fell $22 or over 20 per cent. in the Stock Board this morning.

Such a sickly attempt at a wind-storm as that made by the weather Clerk to-day commands the contempt of every rancher and prophet in the county.

We learn that a grand party will be held to-morrow night, at which no smoking will be allowed. That's a new kind of party and we don't know what it means, but we make the announcement for what it is worth.

There is no material change to note in Flynn's condition. He was suffering considerable pain yesterday, and the wounded part was very sore. The exact nature of his hurt has not yet been ascertained.

A BRAKEMAN KILLED AT TRUCKEE.—A brakeman named Fox, who ran for some time on the passenger train between Truckee and Winnemucca, met with a shocking death at the former place this morning. No. 5, it seems, had just come in, and had dropped her train a little further down than usual. Fox was standing on the foot-board of the engine Sampson as she was backing up, and was caught between the engine and some of the cars cut off from No. 5's train. The injured man lived but a short time after being taken out. He was a young man and bore a good reputation.

POLICE COURT.—Judge Gilson, since he was relieved of the cares of office, has donned a new suit and gone to work with hammer and saw at fitting up his new office. The Judge will soon be prepared to attend to any notarial business which may be given him. John Doe now passes the Judge without notice, and Richard Roe, when asked to plead, says, "first offense," for he knows that Gilson is not there to give him the customary seclusion. Barlow is there, however, and when he lays his finger alongside of his nose, Richardson knows that a chronic case is before him.

PERSONAL.—Sam. Grass, District Attorney of Humboldt county, was in town to-day. And still they come.

We had the pleasure of meeting to-day Mr. Chas. E. Bailey of Stockton. Mr. Bailey comes to Reno to engage in the wholesale liquor business, and Chielovich's front room will be fitted up for his use.

E. Chielovich is also in town, superintending the furnishing and equipment of his new billiard room.

ARM BROKEN.—We are sorry to state that Cutting, better known as "Shorty," and formerly a brakeman on the V. & T. road, had his arm broken night before last. The accident was occasioned by a scuffle between "Shorty" and Jack O'Neill of the Gas Works. Shorty was thrown, and in falling struck his arm upon a board, and broke the humerus near the elbow. The break is not regarded as a severe one, although it is quite painful.

SCALPS.—A man named Felch to-day brought in some coyote and wild cat scalps from the foot of the grade. He had captured them around his sheep camp, and says he has thrown away dozens during the year. He got in just in time with this cargo, as it is probable that the law will be repealed by the end of this week, a bill for that purpose having passed one House of the Legislature.

LOST.—At the Reno Opera House, on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 2, a fine pair of gloves with fur around the wrists. The finder will confer a favor by returning them to the Rev. C. L. Fisher.

Mrs. S. A. Milliken, Hair Dresser. All kinds of Hair work done to order. Combs made up in first class style at San Francisco prices. Corner of Centre and Glass Streets. Reno, Nevada.

WANTED.—A woman or girl to do general house work. A No. 1 situation. Apply at this office immediately. 11-2817

STAGE.—Hymers and Chism's stage for the Pyramid Lake mining district will leave Reno on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 7 A. M. Returning will leave the mines on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 11 A. M. This arrangement to take effect until further notice.

ATTENTION SHAYERS.—S. Schwartz notifies all of his old friends that his barber shop has been temporarily established in the International Hotel. He would like to meet his old patrons at the new quarters, and will turn them out as good looking as ever. Those who need "chin fixing" will take notice. 10-21

WESTERN STAR SALOON.—B. Pendola, the proprietor of this saloon, which is situated on the west side of Center street, keeps constantly on hand the choicest beverages of all kinds and the best brands of cigars. Among his choice drinks are Pendola's favorite, pineapple, cabinet, Pendola's punches and the renowned ambrosial cocktail, all of which are daily dispensed at the Western Star. Every attention is paid to patrons. Order and civility is the rule at this saloon.

HOMEOPATHY.—Dr. R. H. Chase, for many years a Homeopathic Physician, now intends to make Reno his home, and announces to the public that he will treat all cases to which he may be called to attend, according to the latest and best methods in the Homeopathic practice. Office on Virginia street, near the Reno Library. 7-2717

WARNER'S SANITARY CORSETS.—Mrs. Marsh would inform the ladies of Reno and vicinity that a supply of the above corsets and child's waist and hose supporters, may hereafter be found at Miss Golden's millinery store, Virginia street.

A large assortment of Ladies' fine Slippers and children's fine shoes at John Underland's.

RENO ACADEMY.—English, French and German Day School, will open on Monday October 20. Thorough and practical instruction in the elementary and higher English branches. Daily lessons in the theory and practice of vocal music and French, without extra charge. Special advantages offered to those wishing to pursue a course of English history and literature. The second quarter will commence January 8th, 1877. For further particulars apply to Mrs. FRANCES A. KNOX.

A CURIOUS PHENOMENON.—One of the most charming valleys in the Thuringian forest is the Dietharz or Schmalwasser thale, in the northwestern portion of the mountain range that lies in the Duchy of Coburg-Gotha. The sweetest valleys, embellished with picturesque groups of rocks, and traversed with sparkling brooks, extend fan-shaped from the hollow in which lie the two ancient villages, Timpach and Dietharz. The lovely Schmalwassergrund rises from Timpach up to the Falkenstein. It possesses that character of the sweetly poetical melancholy that appeals to those hearts that are forced to go through the world misunderstood, despised and scorned. It is such nature that know the value of a hilly tract like this; for neither here nor far around in the mountains is a human dwelling to be found. In this valley, where the Schmalwassergrund is entered from Dietharz, at about ten minutes distance from the village hard by the excellent carriage road which leads up to the Falkenstein and to the idyllic Oberhof, there stands a curiously shaped rock. Rising to a height of twenty or thirty metres, it juts forward from the plain and assumes the form of a human face, which seen in profile, bears a striking resemblance to his late Majesty Napoleon III. Emperor of France. It is strange that Nature, by fortuitous circumstances, should have been able to create so grotesque a figure. Napoleon III's countenance is rendered so strikingly that, although it is more of a caricature than a flattering likeness, it is difficult for the observer to resist doubting for a moment whether such a phenomenon could really be caused by the elements alone. It is more than a mere silhouette profile which rises before us in these colossal dimensions. The eye with the half closed lids, the upturned mustache—in fact, all those traits which mark the expression of resignation and energy which we were accustomed to consider the chief characteristics of Napoleon III, are imprinted on the stone portrait.

ACCIDENT TO BARRY SULLIVAN.—Few playgoers know how serious a matter a stage fight is. Though "they do but jest," the combatants can not afford to miss a single guard without placing their lives in danger. The other night, in the final scene of "Richard III.," at Drury Lane, the representative of the crookbacked tyrant was very near being killed in earnest. The fight had proceeded but a few moments when Mr. Sullivan fell and made a gesture toward his antagonist, signifying that he had been struck. It was found that Mr. Sullivan, in recovering his sword, after a downward blow, had cut or ripped one side of Mr. Sullivan's face, the eye narrowly escaping. Mr. Sullivan, we regret to say, has not been able to play since. Though Mr. Sullivan is the hero of several thousands of stage fights, this is the only time he has been wounded, although he insists upon the fencing being no make believe. —London Examiner.
